Special Guest: Tim Cipriano

Chef Tim, as he is commonly known, is Executive Director of Food Services for the New Haven Public Schools in Connecticut. With more than 16 years of culinary experience, Tim has built collaborative partnerships between the New Haven schools' food programs and local organizations such as Yale University, Connecticut Food Bank, CitySeed Farmers' Markets, and Lockwood Farm in nearby Hamden. One of Tim's most valuable achievements has been introducing more local produce into the school lunch program and working to educate New Haven's urban students about fresh, healthy, and great tasting food choices.
